RDTM INNOVATION

RED DRAGON'S PIONEERING SPIRIT OF INNOVATION

Red Dragon pioneered the process of sintering tungsten billets in the mid 1970's in a drive to serve the world's growing passion for darts.

David Porter, The Welsh Unicorn, changed the course of history, becoming Red Dragon's first ever pure custom fit player in 1976. This was to set the foundation for every tungsten dart that we've ever made.

Standard billets came in 3 diameters (0.25", 0.282", 0.315") but David needed an intermediate diameter that would come at great risk and investment. The 0.260" billet Red Dragon created was a truly enlightened decision that 50 years on sets Red Dragon apart from every other darts company.

Finding this innovative edge, no matter how small, requires a dedication to engineering and intuitive design. This has aided World Champions like Gerwyn Price, Peter Wright and Grand Prix winner Jonny Clayton to play at their very best.

Whilst David Porter helped lay the foundations of our technological innovation and advancement, our dedication remains the same; to deliver the world's most passionate players the precision equipment they need to win.

CREATING THE STARS OF THE FUTURE

"The News of the World was what started darts march towards the global televised game that it is now, and was so big that the World Championships didn't beat it. Times change and events but what Red Dragon have done here is nothing short of amazing in capturing the complete spirit of the rapid fire high pressure event, making the Cardiff Finals an amazing climax to the event."

Bobby George

Double News of the World Winner

"Having played in the News of World it was really interesting to see what this modern version would be like, and having also played in every darts major in the World, I was blown away by just how big this event has become. The finals day was a superb event that every player with any passion for the game should want to be there competing for the title."
